Henning's Foods introduces ingredients to pet industry

OMAHA, Neb. (June 2, 2006) — Henning's Foods has seen the recent shift in pet food from inedible to edible, human grade food and is proud to introduce Henning's ingredients to the pet industry.

Henning's dehydrated ingredients are USDA approved and made with human grade raw materials that are perfect for pet food applications. These ingredients contain no by-products and provide the flavor and texture pets want along with the exceptional quality customers deserve.

Henning's Foods specializes in dehydrated ingredients such as beef, chicken, turkey, pork and egg, and has provided the food industry with quality products and service for over a century.
